

Vikalpa

for alternatives that matter

We invite you to read and actively participate in the conversations on Vikalpa, a new website created to highlight innovative and engaging writing on peace, democratic governance and fundamental rights in Sri Lanka.

Articles on the website will be primarily in Sinhala and Tamil and based on established UNICODE standards. Content on the website is accessible across all modern operating systems and web browsers.

Vikalpa demonstrates the commitment of the Centre for Policy Alternatives (CPA), Colombo, Sri Lanka to critique and strengthen governance and democracy in Sri Lanka through citizen journalism and new media.

We accept progressive contributions from civil society in line with our content submission policies on the Vikalpa website. Please write in with your articles to contributions@vikalpa.org.
